In the Matter of Registered Nurse           §       AGREED
License Number 603874                       § issued to KEVIN RAY BREWER               §       ORDER

On this day the Texas Board of Nursing, hereinafter referred to as the Board, considered the matter of KEVIN RAY BREWER, Registered Nurse License Number 603874, hereinafter referred to as Respondent.

Information received by the Board produced evidence that Respondent may have violated Section 301.452(b)(10)&(13), Texas Occupations Code. Respondent waived informal proceedings, notice and hearing, and agreed to the entry of this Order offered on February 27, 2011, by Katherine A. Thomas, MN, RN, Executive Director, subject to ratification by the Board.

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Prior to the institution of Agency proceedings, notice of the matters specified below in these Findings of Fact was served on Respondent and Respondent was given an opportunity to show compliance with all requirements of the law for retention of the license(s).
2. Respondent waived informal proceedings, notice and hearing, and agreed to the entry of this Order.
3. Respondent is currently licensed to practice professional nursing in the State of Texas.
4. Respondent received an Associate Degree in Nursing from Tarrant County Junior College, Ft. Worth, Texas, on May 9, 1994. Respondent was licensed to practice professional nursing in the State of Texas on June 6, 1994.
5. Respondent's nursing employment history includes:

6/94 - 5/95	Staff Nurse	Parkland Hospital Dallas, Texas
6/95 - 4/98	Staff Nurse	Abacus Home Healthcare Dallas, Texas

Respondent's nursing employment history continued:

5/98 - 8/00	Staff Nurse Emergency Room	Baylor Medical Center Irving, Texas
9/00 - 5/01	Staff Nurse	Nurse Stat Dallas, Texas
6/01 - 11/06	Manager Operating Room	Las Colinas Medical Center Irving, Texas
12/06 - 10/08	Staff Nurse Operating Room	North Hills Hospital North Richland Hills, Texas
11/08 - Present	Staff Nurse Operating Room	Baylor Medical Center at Trophy Club Trophy Club, Texas

6. On or about February 12, 2002, Respondent's license to practice professional nursing in the State of Texas was issued a Warning through an Agreed Order of the Board issued by the Board of Nurse Examiners for the State of Texas. A copy of the Findings of Fact, Conclusions of Law, Respondent's Statement of Agreement and Order dated February 12, 2002, is attached and incorporated herein by reference as part of this Order.
7. At the time of the incident in Finding of Fact Number Eight, Respondent was employed as a Manager in the Operating Room with Las Colinas Medical Center, Irving, Texas, and had been in this position for five (5) years.
8. On or about July 6, 2006, while employed as an Operating Room Manager, and assigned as a Circulating Nurse, with Las Colinas Medical Center, Irving, Texas, Respondent failed to maintain an accurate sponge count in order to ensure the removal of all raytec sponges used for Patient Medical Record Number AF00160861, a sixty-five (65) year old female admitted for vaginal vault suspension and repair of rectocele. As a result, a raytec sponge was retained which caused the patient to develop a postoperative infection and subsequently required the patient to undergo a second operation two (2) months later to remove the foreign body. Respondent's conduct exposed the patient unnecessarily to a risk of harm from medical complications which required a second operation to remove the retained sponge.
9. Respondent states that he accepts responsibility for the role he played in the incident but asserts that he and the surgeon were given inaccurate information by the scrub technician who was responsible for removing the sponges used in the procedure and who was counting them out loud. The scrub technician had performed a sponge count prior to surgery and stated afterwards that there were 10 raytec sponges and was recorded as such. However, due to the positioning of the patient, the physician and the scrub nurse, as well as the configuration of the room and the equipment, during the surgery, Respondent could hear the scrub technician count out the sponges and could see her motion to drop the sponges in the bucket near the scrub technician but was unable to visualize each sponge specifically though he could visualize the technician's arm movements to remove and drop the sponges in the bucket. The scrub technician announced the count correct and the count matched the number of arm motions Respondent observed the technician make in removing the sponges as counting aloud. As the procedure neared completion, Respondent states he requested the sharps and sponge count, and "she counted aloud that she had 10 raytec sponges, which was the initial and correct count." The physician noted in his operative report that the count was correct; unfortunately, the count was in error, which directly resulted in the occurrence of the retained sponge. After the incident, Respondent was educated on how to avoid another similar patient incident in the future. Specifically, the education included the need for Respondent to "concurrently count" and visualize the sponges with the scrub tech and not simply rely on the scrub tech's verbal count and arm motions in removing the sponges and placing them in a bucket. Furthermore, Respondent received counseling that if he could not visualize the sponges as counted and removed then he must view the sponges in the bucket and count them to confirm the scrub tech's count. Since the incident in 2006, Respondent has: 1) sat for and passed the CNOR exam; 2) annually renewed his CNOR with hours in excess of the minimal continuing education requirements; 3) served as a perioperative nurse educator and preceptor, and has even used his experience in this case to assure that those he educates and precepts understand the importance of not relying solely on scrub technicians to make proper counts; and 4) participated in approximately one thousand (1000) surgeries per year without any known incident involving erroneous sponge counts resulting in retained foreign bodies. Regarding the Warning issued by the Board in 2002, Respondent points out that those issues are not the same or similar to those giving rise to this Agreed Order and that Respondent complied with, and successfully completed, the terms of the 2002 Agreed Order.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

1. Pursuant to Texas Occupations Code, Sections 301.451-301.555, the Board has jurisdiction over this matter.
2. Notice was served in accordance with law.
3. The evidence received is sufficient to prove violations of Section 301.452(b)(10)&(13), Texas Occupations Code, and 22 TEX. ADMIN. CODE §§217.11(1)(A),(1)(B),(1)(O)&(3)(A) 217.12(1)(A),(1)(B)&(4).
