

“Have you ever been convicted of a crime other than minor traffic violations?”

Respondent failed to disclose that, on or about July 23, 1971, Respondent entered a plea of Guilty and was convicted of two (2) Counts of FORGERY (felony offenses committed June 23, 1971), at a Corporation Court of the City of Charlottesville, Virginia. As a result of the conviction, Respondent was sentenced to confinement in the penitentiary for a period of four (4) years. Confinement was suspended until further order of the court, such suspension being conditioned upon the good behavior of the defendant and payment of costs.

7. In response to Finding of Fact Number Six (6), Respondent states: She was twenty-one at the time of the arrest. She married a man that was a poor influence on her. She worked as a lab assistant and always needed money. Her husband took all the money she earned. One day she made a poor decision to try to cash two $75.00 checks on an account that was not her account. The court records state that it was June 23, 1971. The forgery of the checkbook owner's name was immediately apparent to the bank. She was arrested later after she left the bank. Her mother obtained a release and a lawyer. She felt great shame and remorse for deviating so far from her own upbringing and values. From the review of the court documents, she entered a plea of guilty. The judge entered both a conviction and a suspended sentence, "conditioned upon the good behavior of the defendant and payment of costs." She was not jailed and did not have to do anything else. The sentence was suspended with no further requirements on her part but good behavior and payment of court costs. She did not mean to not disclose it to the Board.
