

6. At the time of the incident in Finding of Fact Number Seven (7), Respondent was employed as a Staff Nurse with St. Jiles Living Centers, Lufkin, Texas, and had been in this position for four (4) months.
7. On or about September 4, 2007, while employed as a Staff Nurse with St. Giles Living Centers, Lufkin, Texas, Respondent failed to accurately assess Client AY for self administration of medications. Although Respondent documented that the client had the cognitive ability to "sometimes" follow directions "with verbal prompts," Respondent scored the client at the highest functional level for cognitive ability to follow directions, indicating that Client AY was "fully capable." Respondent's conduct unnecessarily exposed the client to the risk of harm from care decisions based upon inaccurate assessment information.
8. On or about December 15, 2007, while employed as a Staff Nurse with St. Giles Living Centers, Lufkin, Texas, Respondent failed to complete an adequate focused assessment of the aforementioned Client AY after having been notified that the client had fallen and after the client had been seen by a Physician's Assistant the day before for fever, cough, body aches, and flu-like symptoms. Although Respondent documented that she had seen the client and that the client's appetite was decreased and he had not eaten much dinner, and that "his eyes looked a little glassy, like he was sleepy," Respondent did not assess the client's complete vital signs or his respiratory or neurological system. Respondent's conduct unnecessarily exposed the client to the risk of harm from care decisions based upon incomplete assessment information.
9. On or about December 17, 2007, while employed as a Staff Nurse with St. Giles Living Centers, Lufkin, Texas, Respondent again failed to complete an adequate focused assessment of the aforementioned Client AY, who:
  - Had a fever of 102.3 axillary at 8:45 am and Respondent could not get the client to stay up long enough to get a blood pressure; and
  - She saw at noon after the client had slid out of his chair and was irritable, and after determining that the client was still unsteady on his feet and that his temperature had come down to 98.3 axillary.At 3 pm, the client was transported in a wheelchair due to weakness to see a physician, who, at the insistence of the client's family, sent the client to a local facility's emergency department for a x-ray. Upon arrival at the emergency department, the client's blood oxygen level was found to be low, at 86%, and a subsequent x-ray revealed that the client had pneumonia. Eight (8) days later, the client expired after his parents directed that his respiratory support be removed. Respondent's conduct unnecessarily exposed the client to the risk of harm from care decisions based upon incomplete assessment information.
10. In response to the incidents in Findings of Fact Numbers Seven (7) through Nine (9), Respondent states that she provided appropriate care. The client lived in a group home for persons with intellectual and developmental disabilities, a home where residential assistants take care of the daily needs of clients. The activities of the residential assistants include preparing food, monitoring hygiene, administering medications and transporting the clients, and the residential assistants are monitored by a residential coordinator for the home. It is the residential assistants who notify the nurse of any client illness, injury or medical concern. According to Respondent, she responded appropriately each time the residential assistants notified her of the client's status.
