6. At the time of the initial incident in Finding of Fact Number Seven (7), Respondent was employed as a Staff Nurse in the MICU with Hillcrest Baptist Medical Center, Waco, Texas, and had been in this position for four (4) months.
7. On or about January 2, 2008, while employed as a Staff Nurse with Hillcrest Baptist Medical Center, Waco, Texas, Respondent failed to completely and accurately report and/or document that she reported the deteriorating condition of Patient Medical Record Number M000718835 to the patient's physician. Respondent documented a drop in the patient's blood pressure and oxygen saturation level, however, did not notify the physician for one (1) hour. Respondent then called the physician to report the drop in the patient's blood pressure and oxygen saturation level without informing him that the patient had received Ativan, Xanax, a scheduled medication, and two (2) doses of Morphine prior to her coming on duty. As a result, the patient required intubation because the effects of the medications initially could not be reversed with Narcan. Respondent's conduct was likely to injure the patient from progression of clinical complications, including those associated with respiratory depression and possible respiratory arrest.
8. Respondent states that she received report on this patient from the day nurse who expressed concern that the patient was extremely agitated, hostile and unable to lay still while the arterial sheath from the heart cath remained in the patient. Respondent states that the reporting nurse voiced concern that the patient was extremely verbal about pulling the sheath out herself and leaving Against Medical Advice. Respondent explains that the reporting nurse had given the patient all the sedation that was on the physician orders at the time, including as needed medications and scheduled medication. She states that the day nurse stated she had called the physician just prior to change of shift to request additional sedation for the patient had received an order for 1 mg Ativan IV, which she administered. Respondent goes on to explain that their report was interrupted a few times due to this patient putting on her call light and a report that the patient's husband was administering medications to the patient that he had brought from home. Respondent states that at 2000 the patient was still very agitated and unable to lay flat. Respondent tried to reposition the patient, which did not help, and the patient demanded more medication or to have the sheath removed. Respondent states, "It was my understanding from report that the physician was aware of the patient's anxiety, agitation and the amount of medications already given. ... I gave the Darvocet that was still on the order." Respondent states that this patient continued to be agitated to the point that the staff was concerned the patient was either going to dislodge the sheath or lacerate the artery. Respondent states that at approximately 2200 - 2215, she called the physician when the patient's blood pressure started dropping and she was experiencing a decreased level on consciousness. Respondent states, "I did not ask for any other medication for sedation prior to or during care of this patient. I recounted to him all the sedation she had been given. He became very angry when told about the Morphine the patient had received. He stated that he had not been informed Morphine was being given or he would not have ordered the Ativan at 1838. I believe he mistook me for the nurse who had called him for the Ativan order. He kept saying, "You didn't tell me about the Morphine before." Respondent states that she apologized that he had not been informed, but stated she needed direction on what to do at this point. The physician instructed Respondent to give "Narcan - standard dose." Respondent responded by asking for a restatement of the order in the form of Narcan 0.4 mg IV. At that point the physician hung up on Respondent and called back asking for the Charge Nurse and asked that the patient be assigned to another nurse.

9. Charges were filed on February 9, 2010.
10. Charges were mailed to Respondent on February 10, 2010.
