As a result of the conviction, Respondent was ordered to pay a fine and court costs.
7. On or about August 11, 2005, Respondent submitted a Texas Online Renewal Document Registered Nurse to the Board of Nurse Examiners for the State of Texas in which she provided false, deceptive, and/or misleading information, in that she answered "No" to the question:

"Have you ever been convicted, adjudicated guilty by a court, plead guilty, no contest or nolo contendere to any crime in any state, territory or country, whether or not a sentence was imposed, including any pending criminal charges or unresolved arrests (excluding minor traffic violations) since your last renewal? This includes expunged offenses and deferred adjudications with or without prejudice of guilt. Please note that DUIs, DWIs, and PI's must be reported and are not considered minor traffic violations. (One time minor in possession [MIP] or minor in consumption [MIC] does not need to be disclosed; therefore, you may answer "No." If you have two or more MIPs or MICs, you must answer "Yes".)"

8. In response to Findings of Fact Numbers Six (6) and Seven (7), Respondent states: On the evening of June 5, 2004, my fiancée and I were returning from a friend's home out of town, during our ride back to my apartment we began and heated discussing over finances. By the time we arrived at the apartment the dispute had escalated. We were both very upset. So, I told my fiancée to leave. He would not leave because in his words he wanted to get it settled. I called the police to come out and make him leave. When they arrived they spoke with my fiancée and myself separately about why I called them. My fiancée had large healing scars on his arms and legs from a motorcycle accident a few days earlier and he told the officer about the accident. He also told the officer that he did not call them out and he did not have my problem with me. The officer came to me and accused me of the scars. I informed the officer just as my fiancée had of the motorcycle accident. I reminded the officer that I was the one who called them. I also told him that my fiancée and I needed some time apart so we could calm down. The officer told me although my name was the only name on the lease, they could not make my fiancée leave since we were considered Common Law Married. I advised the officer that if he didn't leave I would continue to call the police. This seemed to angered the officer. He told me to sit in the police car for a few minutes and while

I was getting in the car, he jerked my purse off my shoulder. I remembered that I had taken my gun out of my car and put it in my purse. I immediately told the officer to be careful handling my purse because my gun was in my purse. The officer stated "Well now we got something to arrest you on, if you don't have a permit. I was told by the officer that I was being arrested for the gun but later discovered the officer attempted to also charge me with an assault on my fiancée. I was finally charged with Criminal Attempt of Disorderly Conduct and I pleaded no contest.
