

6. On or about November 18, 2005, Respondent submitted a forged and fraudulent Certificate of Participation from the National Center of Continuing Education to verify completion of an eight (8) hour continuing education course entitled, "Allergies: Clearing the Air with Education," that he did not actually take. Respondent's conduct was deceiving to the Board and may have affected the Board's decision to renew his license to practice vocational nursing.
7. For the period beginning August 20, 2003 through August 20, 2005, Respondent failed to comply with the continuing education requirements in that he failed to complete twenty (20) contact hours.
8. Respondent deeply regrets that he submitted the fraudulent certificate as evidence of his continued nursing education hours. Respondent states that when he submitted verification of his continuing education hours to the Board, he was confident that he had completed the required twenty (20) hours and provided sufficient documentation to account for these hours. After submitting all of his course verifications, he learned that he had not completed the requisite amount of hours. Respondent asserts that he did complete the necessary hours, but does not have the copies of what he submitted to the Board and regrets that he did not keep better track of his continuing education credit hours.
